A True and perfect Relation of the particular passages at Yorke, on Friday the third of June. 1642.

HIS Majesty having summoned the Free-holders of the County of Yorke, to appeare before him on Heworth Moore, on the day above said, to satisfie them concerning his intentions, many of them did appeare together with a great multitude of Labourers and poore people, as also divers of the Inhabitants of the County of Lancaster, in all according to the estimate of my selfe, and divers others of judgment) about the number of seventy thousand upwards, they came not in any warlike way, nor put themselves into any posture or order, neither was the third part of the Free-holders and Farmers of Yorke-shire there.

His Majesty had appointed 800 foot completely armed to guard his Person, and about 11. of the close came to the Field or Moore accompanied with a great number of Lords and Knights of great quality.

The Prince also led a troope of Horſe conſiſting of 150. Knights, Eſquires and Gentlemen, ſome where of had four, ſome three, and moſt two men a peece, which made another Troope.

As ſoon as his Maſteſty came neer the Moore, the people did entertayn him with a very loud ſhout, and being come into the Moore, and as much ſilence made as could be, his Maſteſty made a Speech, therein declaring his conſtancy in the Proteſtant Religion, and his great affection to that County, intimating that he reſolved to reſide amongſt them in thoſe parts to keepe the Country in peace. His Speech being ended, he rode round the Moore, and about the number of 65000. followed him, crying all the way (God bleſſe the King) but the reſt which were about 5000 all Freeholders ſeparated themſelves to Petition to his Maſteſty, and had their Petition ready to preſent to him, the effect of it, was to beſeech his Maſteſty to come to the Parliament, &c. but their Petition was intercepted by the Lord Savill, who carried himſelfe very ſtrange-ly in that particular, and in a forcible manner, ſuffered them not to deliver the ſame: His Maſteſty having rode round the field, all the people brought him off the Moore with a great ſhout, and there many left him, but 20000 accompanied him to the Court gate, and ſaw him ſafe at Court, and with a great ſhout left him.

A great multitude of the peop'le never came at the Field, but ſtaid in the City, and others came but into the Moore, when the reſt came out. And having thus made their appearance about eight of the clocke at night all were returned out of the Field.
